A Christian cannot live according to something he has died to.

